FORMGROUP
architecture + planning

Architect
FormGroup

FORMGROUP has been offering complete and comprehensive architecture services for over 20 years in the South Florida market. They provide a full range of architectural design and technical consulting services necessary to execute construction projects of any scale. Their portfolio includes custom homes, high-end restaurants, office buildings, and multi-family residential projects, all focused on the highest quality of design and efficiency for our clients. Their focus is on modern architecture and maximizing the development potential of every site. They bring current and relative ideas to every project.

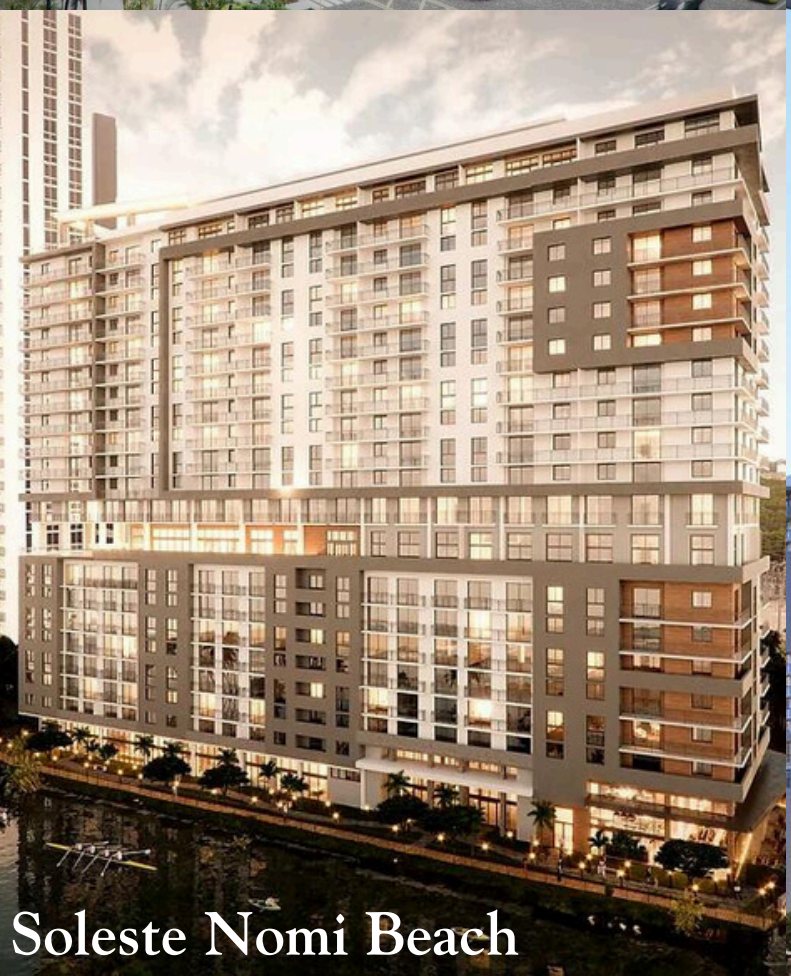

Their working method focuses on personal attention and a strong belief that architecture has the ability to change lives. As a small boutique firm, they have the ability to deliver projects of any scale while providing attention to detail and focus on constructibility, which is difficult in larger corporate firms. Every project is viewed as an opportunity to explore design ideas but also to ensure that ideas don't merely become design exercises but real buildings for real people.
